

EU PRO Plus 2021/2022 Calendar Competition

“Your ideas, your future”

Background

The European Union for Local Development Programme - EU PRO Plus as its predecessor Programmes – PRO 1 and 2, EU and European PROGRES and EU PRO organises an annual art competition for high school students in 99 municipalities of southern Serbia. The competition intends to encourage students to learn about, consider and promote different aspects of longstanding relationships between Serbia and European Union and explore their common goals and values.

The competition is also an opportunity to recognise, encourage and award artistic talent of socially engaged high school students, as well as a schools in the Programmes area which most prominently and systematically supports creative growth of its students.

Objectives

1. To encourage the youth in the 99 cities and municipalities to become or remain socially conscious, engaged and proactive about their rights and needs;
2. To inspire high school students to take action on the issues that matter to them and actively work on developing and/or contributing to initiatives that positively impact their lives and lives of the their community as a whole;
3. To improve learning conditions in the school with the best result in the competition;
4. To encourage secondary school pupils to pursue their artistic talent.

Competition Theme

The European Commission proclaimed 2022 to be the European Year of Youth in order to support the engagement and participation of all young people in actively expressing their own ideas and creating opportunities for a better future with renewed perspectives and opportunities focused on green and digital transitions.

The European Year of Youth acknowledges the generation that has sacrificed the most during the pandemic, especially the youth from vulnerable groups and rural areas. The initiative is intended to encourage them to become active citizens and actors of positive change by expressing and implementing their own actions, vision and insights on how to adjust their surroundings to meet their needs to build their own future.

The drawing competition in 2021/22 invites high school students to creatively respond to the theme “Your idea, your future.” The theme aims to motivate students to think about what project would make their home town a better place for young people to live in, and especially how local young people can individually and as a group contribute to that change.

We want to encourage youth to think about activities, opportunities or institutions in their home towns that would drastically improve the quality of their life, and convey them through artistic expression. What changes in their surroundings would contribute to their decision not to migrate to larger Cities and abroad.

Artworks should clearly and specifically depict local projects, individual or collective actions, or initiatives be it collective or individual that would contribute to the positive change in the life standard for local youth.
